ca c'est bon!

(that's good!)

From over-stuffed poboys and raw oysters to fresh boiled seafood and Cajun favorites just like grandma made them...we have it all waiting for you! For over 150 years, this bilingual, coastal parish has been a multicultural blend of history with a dash of "joie de vivre"!

Travel our back roads to see how our agriculture and aquaculture provide the basis for many of our local dishes. It's here that rice, sugarcane, cattle, crawfish and alligators are farmed then sold to our restaurants and our local stores. Our proximity to the Gulf of Mexico also means we have an abundance of fresh seafood for our amazing cuisine.

So when it's time to eat, sit down with the locals and enjoy classic dishes cooked with ingredients from our own fields and waters. Come for a visit, your place at the table is ready!
